

Bibliography for Ambition and Goal-Setting Workshops

Austin, Linda. What's Holding You Back: 8 Critical Choices for Women's Success. Basic Books, 2000.

Babcock, Linda and Sara Laschever. Women Don't Ask. Princeton University Press. 2003.

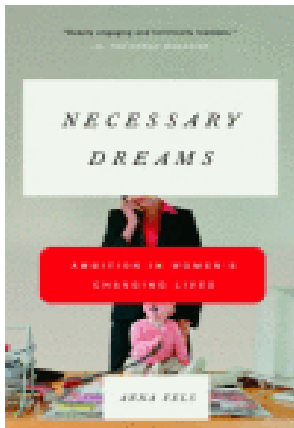

Babcock, Linda and Sara Laschever. Ask for It: How Women Can Use the Power of Negotiation to Get What They Really Want. Bantam Books. 2008.

Butler, Pamela E. Self-Assertion for Women. HarperCollins. 1992. This book has a good chapter on fears around being assertive.

Condren, Debra. am ● bitch ● ous. Morgan Road Books. 2006. Reissued as Ambition Is Not a Dirty Word: A Woman's Guide to Earning Her Worth and Achieving Her Dreams, 2008. Some questionnaires from this book are available at http://ambitchous.typepad.com/ambition_is_not_a_dirty_w/ambitchous-or-not.html

Dowd, Maureen. "What's a Modern Girl to Do?" New York Times Magazine, October 30, 2005. Go to <http://www.truthout.org/article/maureen-dowd-whats-a-modern-girl-do> Dowd's article is adapted from her book Are Men Necessary: When Sexes Collide. She presents a very grim picture of the future for women (intelligent women will never marry, women don't want the grind of work, etc.). For a cure, read the next two articles debunking Maureen Dowd's statistics and putting forth a much more positive vision.

- Rivers, Caryl and Rosalind Barnett. "Why Dowd Doesn't Know What Men Really Want." Women's Enews, April 10, 2006. Available at www.truthout.org. Use "find."

Fels, Anna. Necessary Dreams: Ambition in Women's Changing Lives. Pantheon Books, 2004.

This book was my starting point. After reading it, I explored how to turn Fels's research into an interactive workshop in which women can see if the issues raised by Fels apply to their own experiences. Chapter One is available on line.

Grenier, Guy. The Ten Conversations You Must Have Before You Get Married (and How to Have Them). Key Porter Books, 2007.

Heim, Pat. Hardball for Women. Penguin, 2005. Heim outlines the differences between men and women at work. She doesn't want women to be men, but she thinks it would be helpful to understand them.

Hirshman, Linda R. Get to Work: A Manifesto for Women of the World. Viking, 2006.

A lengthy excerpt from this book can be found at <http://abcnews.go.com/GMA/print?id=2067008>. Very very controversial. Interesting and readable.

Holcomb, Betty. Not Guilty: The Good News about Working Mothers. Scribner, 1998.

Katherine, Anne. Where to Draw the Line: How to Set Healthy Boundaries Every Day. Fireside, 2000.

Toth, Emily. Ms. Mentor's Impeccable Advice for Women in Academia. University of Pennsylvania Press, 1997.

This book gives advice on problems facing women in the university environment from graduate school, to job hunting, to first year, and on. The items in the book are drawn from Ms Mentor's column in The Chronicle of Higher Education. Many of Ms Mentor's columns are available online. Go to <http://chronicle.com/jobs/2005/08/2005082201c.htm> for a sample.

Woolf, Virginia. "Professions for Women." from The Death of the Moth and Other Essays. Available at <http://etext.library.adelaide.edu.au/w/woolf/virginia/w91d/chap28.html>
